MY FIRST LETTER ABOUT FRIENDS, CLASSMATES, TEACHERS AND STUDIES IN CHISHOLM HIGH

September 14, 1941

Dear Slim and Marge,

Another year is history, and what history the class of '42 is making!

School life is already in full swing, after only two days of labor. That's how the Chisholm system works.

I'm sending you a picture of us seniors settled down for our biggest year's work. You will probably recognize Bertha Aho, Bob Beconovich, Ralph Baldrica, and the Bonicelli twins right up in front.

Standing at the left, is Miss Alice J. Hickey who manages our small senior world. Although she is little more than five feet, our dynamic dean makes us all, including the six-foot gridiron lugs, "toe the line".

I'll be sending you more snaps soon.

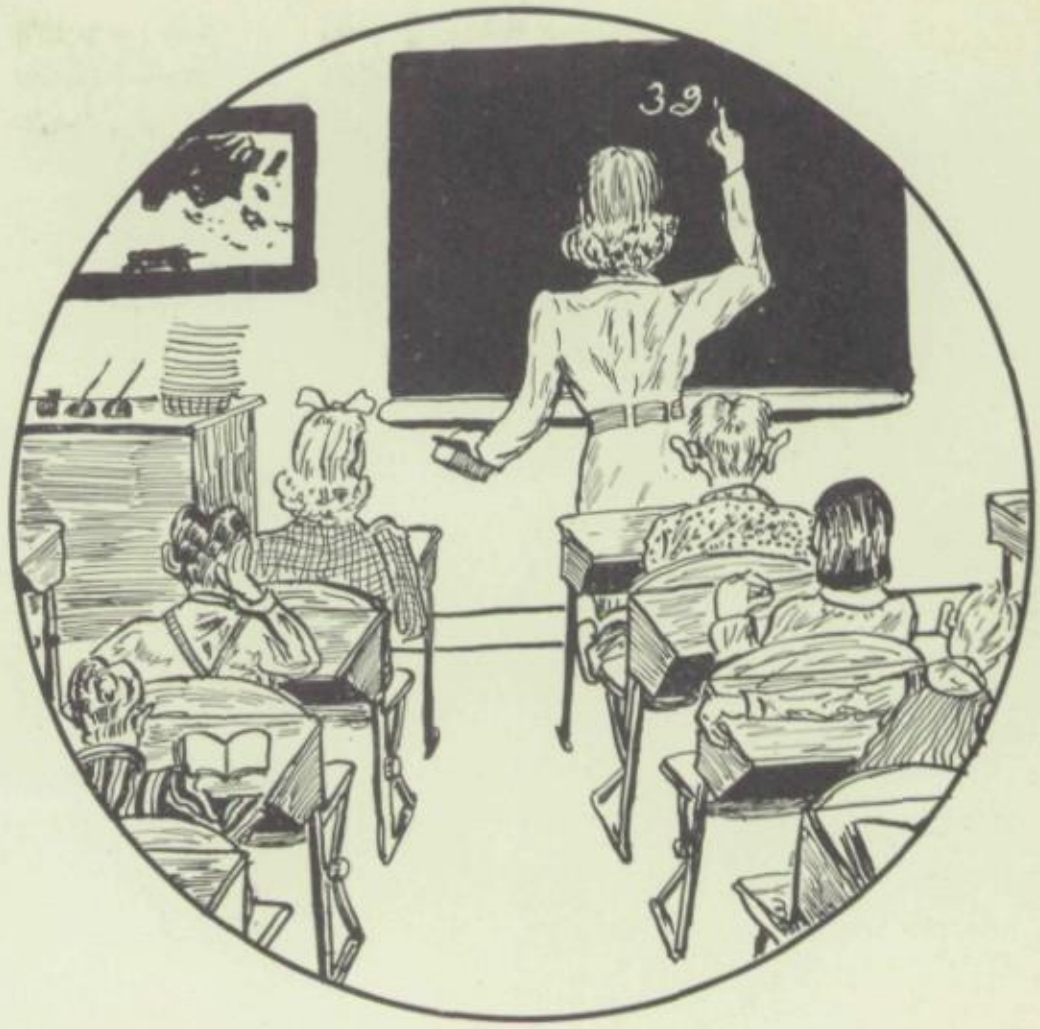
Here we are coming to school. The majority walk, as you can see; but a privileged few ride on buses from the locations, suburbs to you.

However, James Hathaway, Lloyd Johnson, Eleanor Kangas, and Angeline Gerzin prefer their bikes.

Now for the Administration

Gracious Mr. James P. Vaughan, our superintendent, friend, and guide; Alice J. Hickey, dean of girls; and below our principals, A. F. Drotning and E. R. Steffensrud engaged in a friendly conversation about plans and schedules.

and Faculty



Observe the Chisholm High School faculty! Their assignments aren't bad and their teaching is super. They have been sage, friendly, and understanding counselors throughout my high school years.

Third row: George Kavanaugh, Helen Hagan, Lena Bertodatto, Catherine Quigley, Marguerite Fischer, Carl Giffei.
Second row: Lucille Nelson, Eunice Hummel, Kathryn Sullivan, Margaret Darling, Louise Thouin, Teresa Romano, Virginia McNicholas.
First row: Clara Glenn, Rose Solberg, Miriam Jaasko, Irja Hasu, Helen Rugland, Desanka Baich, Alice Dawson, Ottilia Schubert.
Unphotographed: Harvey Walsh, Richard Sielaff, Mae Topolka, Louis Regis, Leonard Lehman, E. V. Ahonen, Victor Hackbarth.

CLASSES!

After the 8:55 bell, we scatter from the study halls and home rooms to our various classes. Here you see us at work with our teachers. At the left is Mr. Kochevar showing his butterfly collection to youthful biologists.

In the center picture, Miss Fischer is supervising the shorthand of her second year class, our future stenographers.

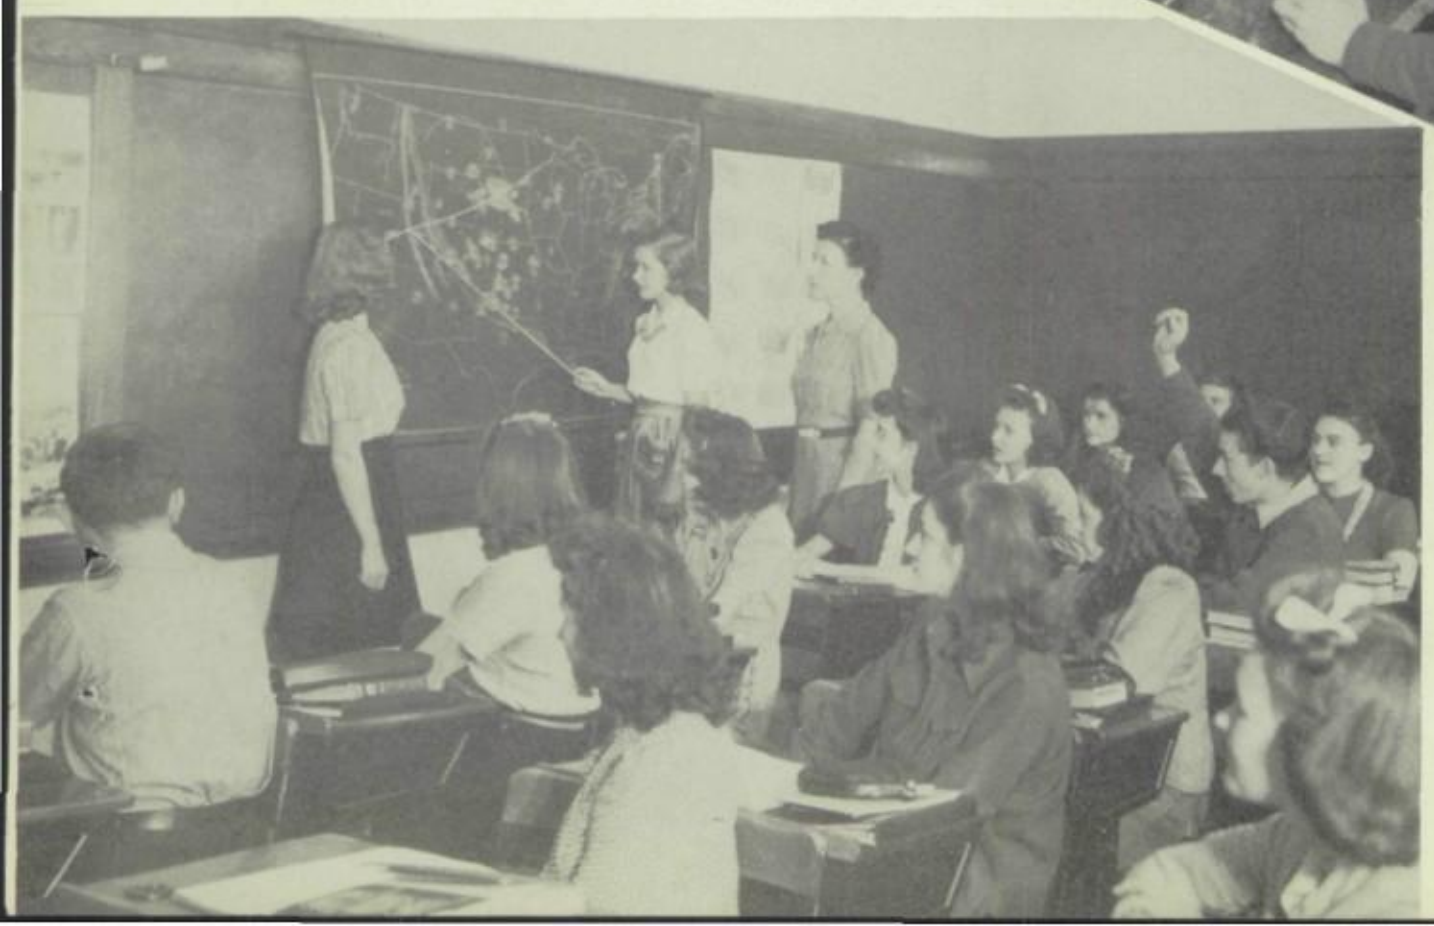
In the lower picture, Miss Hasu's English class puzzles over a test. Robert Aho is trying to grasp an answer out of thin air. I hope he finds it.

AND MORE CLASSES!

At the right, Miss Nelson and her cooking class compare the merits of home and factory preserved foods after they completed a canning project.

In the center picture, Miss Baich's chemistry class is preparing hydrogen with a rather complicated apparatus of gas bottles, thistle tubes, and pneumatic troughs. I hope you turn the page before something explodes.

In the lower picture, Bertha Aho and Connie point out strategic positions at the map when Miss Hagan's economics class ponders the world situation. Nick Mockey seems to have the answer.



Football cheerleaders Jerry Kack, Marion Lindstrom, and Robert Bonato polish off a yell the morning before the big game.

About the same time, the junior and sophomore girls are exchanging "good mornings" as they hang up their wraps—then off to class.

Carmela Zaiotti debates in first year speech while a group of prospective orators look on; May Ann Barke dictates the conjugation of "sein" in German I.

Now appear our School Directors who control the businessend of this "institution of learning". They worry about the money to buy the books that worry us. Directly below is a part of the office staff, Victoria Diorio, secretary to the superintendent; Madeline Strom, assistant secretary to the superintendent; and Axel Nelson, stock clerk.

THE SENIOR COUNCIL

Here's an example of "democracy in action": it is our senior council which we elected on October 1 to represent us.

In the picture you see Mildred Paskvan, Carmen McLeod, Leona Kostelic, Jennie Tobak, Robert Bonato, and Constance Fleming (Peter Ivanca and Edward Perush were not photographed) looking over folders for our class pictures.

They also chose several class rings, invitations, colors, and flowers, from which the student body made the final selection. The council nominated our class officers and selected the five senior girls who were Homecoming Queen candidates; they represented our class at the funeral of Leonard Prusak, Chisholm's first war casualty.

THE SENIOR OFFICERS

Working hand in hand with the council were our class officers whom we elected on October 13. And here they are, Swen Saari, secretary; Matt Sucich, vice-president; Leslie Paavola, president; and Margaret Johnson, treasurer. Our class advisers were Miss Kathryn Sullivan, Mr. Henry Hugener, and Miss Alice J. Hickey (ex-officio).

Besides aiding in the selection of class folders, rings, and invitations, the officers were leaders in the Grand March at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Versatile Miss Desanka Baich and ingenious Mr. Victor Hackbarth were reelected junior class advisers. It was their planning and the enthusiasm of the junior class hosts and hostesses which made the Junior-Senior Prom a decorative and financial success.

THE SOPHOMORES

As you may know, my dear cousins, the word "sophomore" comes from the two Greek words, "sopho", meaning wise, and "moros," meaning fool. But this year's sophomores have already proved that that definition doesn't apply to them. They have entered into classroom and extracurricular activities with such pep and pepper that we old and tottering seniors look on with surprise.

OUR PROM WAS PATRIOTIC

Patriotism was the keynote of the twenty-seventh annual Junior-Senior Promenade on April 17. A mellow light shone through the giant American Flag which stre tched all the way across the ceiling; at least a thousand smaller versions of the "stars and stripes" hung from the walls all around. The dance programs, the girls' formals, and even the sparkling red punch fitted right in with the theme. There impressive decorations were the work of the Junior prom committees under the direction of class advisers Miss Desanka Baich and Mr. Victor Hackbarth.

From eight-thirty until eleven-thirty, we swayed to the smooth melodies of the Rhythm Knights. The most striking number on the program was the Grand March. We promenaded up the floor, down the floor, diagonally across the floor, and under the back-breaking arches; it was a lucky thing that the leaders, Marjory Hulme Robert Siefert (junior class president), Beatrice Ladin, and Leslie Paavola (senior class president) knew where they were going because I certainly didn't.

I imagine that every girl who was there recorded the events of the evening in big black letters in her diary. I know I'll never forget it.

Well, this is the end of my letter about our seniors, juniors, and sophomores. You have seen our teachers and us in our classrooms at work. Maybe now you can understand what has made our years in Chisholm High School so busy and yet so enjoyable.

Goodbye for now,

RALPH

MY SECOND LETTER ABOUT CLUBS, ORGANIZATIONS, DANCES CONCERTS, AND SPORTS IN CHISHOLM HIGH

February 18, 1942

Dear Slim and Marge,

You've heard about our classes, but school just wouldn't be school if it weren't for the extras that add an exciting touch of color.

As you can see, Park, Nancy, Robert, and I are limbering up our instruments for the ~~hep hop~~.

Every organization, team, and club has been busy this year. The vocal music groups had two concerts; the Ranger staff, fourteen publications, the Forensic League, two plays; the Erodelphians, a charming Valentine Ball, and the German Club several peppy dances and parties. The instrumental groups played at programs.

The basketball, football, swimming, track, curling, and gym teams — — but pictures speak louder than words. So stand by; here come the snapshots.

After four o'clock,
my address may be:

WE HAD A HOMECOMING

for the first time in our school's history, on Oct. 17. The festivities began with a pep meeting at three o'clock in the afternoon. The parade beginning at six-thirty, ended at the athletic park. Queen Mildred Paskvan, attended by her ladies-in-waiting, Elizabeth Walsh, Florence Peterson, Celia Vukadinovich, and Dorothy Kotchevar, was crowned just before the Chisholm-Greenway football battle. There was a dance in the school gym after the game.

Yes, siree, we'll always remember this homecoming.

INTRODUCING THE GERMAN CLUB

Since I last wrote, the German club has changed a great deal. It has grown from a mere handful of students to one of the largest, most active clubs in school.

Few of us will ever forget the initiation of last fall. Each initiate performed a stunt, planned by the upper classmen, which provided a great deal of amusement for the spectators.

However, trouble befell the organization. Lack of a guide for the club's policies led to much confusion and dissension. Finally, a committee drafted a constitution which was ratified by all members.

One of the club's biggest functions is their traditional Christmas celebration. After a short program of musical numbers and plays, the group danced and played games in the gymnasium. I took several pictures which I'm enclosing.

Above: Wallace Ruosch and Lauretta Eddy use the Ouija Board to foretell the future while May Ann Barke and Robert Regis look on.

AND THE HI-Y AND NATIONAL HONOR

The Hi-Y boys were the ones who started the social activities at Chisholm High rolling by sponsoring the first mixer in September. At the Hallowe'en Dance, complete with orange and black decorations, and Jack-o-lanterns, they kept up the pace they had begun. Then finally, they rounded out the season with a Last Chance Dance on May 2.

The Hi-Y club, which was organized to promote high standards of fellowship and cooperation, elects its members for their popularity and athletic ability. Those who survive the strenuous, vigorous initiation are admitted to the group.

Mr. Victor Hackbarth was Hi-Y adviser this year. Officers were Matt Sucich, president; Edward Tekautz, vice-president; Nick Dragisich, treasurer; and Jack Krause, secretary. In the top picture are several of the members.

You have probably heard about the National Honor Society for the organization has chapters throughout the United States. To be eligible for membership, a student must rank in the upper third of his class and be rated high in character, leadership, and service. The fifteen per cent of a graduating class who rate highest in these combined requirements is elected.

It is well worth striving for the privilege of wearing the emblem of National Honor. Membership lasts for life, not only during high school years.

Below, you see twenty-six of the twenty-eight seniors elected to the society this year.

PRESENTING THE ERODELPHIANS

"Humming" is the word that describes our Erodelphian all-girl honor society.

By September 31, they had already elected their first semester officers: Marian Dinger, president; Avis Panula, vice-president; Margaret Johnson, critic; Mavis Alto, secretary; Anne Robnik, treasurer, and Harriet Helming, sergeant-at-arms.

To make sure that our Ero girls always look their very best, Mrs. Helen Pellikka demonstrated the proper care of the hair and the skin at the November 4 meeting.

Then came the annual Christmas party; and with it, the pleasure of dancing to the syncopated piano-tinklings of Mr. H. S. (Brownie) Hanson.

After the strain of semester exams was over, came the Valentine Ero Ball, but it will take the whole page to tell you about that.

Next on the docket was the election of second semester officers: Hilda Hill, president; Catherine Dosen, vice-president; Barbara Roels, critic; Helena Nummela, secretary; Marianne Vidmar, treasurer; and Patricia Auble, sergeant-at-arms. But there's so much more to know about this all-girl organization; just go right on the the next page.

HOMECOMING

HEARTS AND FLOWERS

At Chisholm's first homecoming on October 17, the Ero girls were there, to be sure, marching along with the other school clubs in the pre-game parade. The banner they carried bore the date of the founding of their organization, 1915. That means the Ero club is the oldest society in our school. Above is a picture of a few of the girls just before they set out. Left to right, they are Hilda Hill, Marianne Vidmar, Gloria Cox, Ann Robnik, Marian Dinger, Jacqueline Williams, and Catherine Dosen.

Another big event at the C. H. S. was the Ero Ball. This year, it fell exactly on Valentine's Day. Now just guess what the decorations were. Yes, hearts! Big hearts, little hearts, and middle-sized hearts, a red and white galaxy, hung and swayed from the ceiling. Around the walls were Dan Cupids shooting arrows; and when I saw all the girls decked out in their formals, I knew "Blind Dan" had hit once or twice with his darts.

I really don't know much about girls' clothes; but I do know enough to say that they really looked "super". There were lots of those thin, filmy, airy dresses that looked like floating clouds; and there were those swishy ones that rustled like dry leaves. The girls wore corsages, too—roses, gardenias, and even a few orchids.

The high-spot of the evening was the Grand March. Marian Dinger, first semester Erodelphian president, and Alan Humphreys; Mary Krause and Ward Kellow; Lauretta Eddy and Robert Mueller; and Margaret Hernesman and John Sleconich led us through the complicated promenade. We danced to the sweet and smooth, low and dreamy harmonies of the "Rhythm Knights". That was a night we'll never forget. We really appreciated the work of the Ero girls which made their party such a gorgeous affair.

THE A CAPPELLA CHOIR AND GIRL'S CHORUS

The A Cappella Choir is the coveted goal of the Chisholm music students, for only a limited number of singers are selected for membership by Director Alice Dawson.

The many finished performances the group presented this year did not proceed from black magic. The well-developed harmonies resulted from the earnest rehearsals held regularly twice a week and more often before important programs.

Of the many entertainments they presented this year, the solemn Christmas Concert and the all-American Spring Concert stood out because of their unusual beauty.

The A Cappella members also adopted their official pin this year, a harp with a tiny guard.

Below, you see our Delphi Club. The girls studied musical background as well as vocal music this year. The extra course included musical theory, basic harmony, and the study of opera stories and music. The girls met twice a week in small divisions and once a week for a combined class; singers with special talent studied solo work to develop their voices.

Accompanied by Marjory Hulme, the Girls' Chorus took part in our Christmas and Spring concerts and several auditorium programs. Songs that were favorites with the audience and the singers as well were "The Snow" (Elgar) and "The Shadow March" (Protherae).

THE BOYS' CHORUS IN THE CHRISTMAS CANTATA

Our boys, too, had a separate chorus. They practiced every Monday and Friday with sectional rehearsals once a week before school. On February 20, they entertained at assembly. Swinging in on "Marching Along Together", they continued with "America" and "Stouthearted Men". Eight members amused the listeners with "Sophomoric Philosophy", with words that go "the more you learn, the more you forget; the more you forget the less you know; and the less you learn, the less you forget, the less you forget, the more you know," and so forth. Very interesting but I'm afraid just an optical illusion. The boys sang other favorites including "I Ain't Going to Study War No More", "All God's Chillun Got Wings", and "The Marines' Hymn.

The most important Christmas event in our school is the traditional Christmas Concert with the A Cappella Choir, the glee clubs, and the orchestra taking part. The vocal music was under the direction of Miss Alice Dawson; intrumental music, Mr. Louis Regis; tableaux, Miss Virginia McNicholas; and stage, Mr. Victor Hackbarth. The theme as last year, was a cathedral Christmas service with the stage setting designed to represent the choir stalls and the altar of a great church. The scenery was complete with stained windows and a pipe organ.

I shall tell you just how this concert was presented. First two small boys dressed in altar boy's robes lighted the candles. The choir then entered singing "Adestes Fidelis". They sang other favorite carols and songs including "Today There is Ringing" and "Beautiful Savior". Soloists were Leontina Castagneri, Amelia Bozanich, and Goldie Mihelich. Between selections, seven tableaux relating the Story of Nativity were presented with John Indihar as narrator. The concert concluded with the favorite "Silent Night" sung by the choir and played by the orchestra. I hope you will be able to see and hear one of these concerts sometime.

OUR SPRING CONCERT WAS ALL-AMERICAN

I wish you could have heard our spring concert on May 8. Since we did not have a concert last year, this one was doubly enjoyable for the waiting. Miss Alice Dawson directed the vocal music; Mr. Louis Regis, the instrumental music. To Mr. Victor Hackbarth goes the credit of designing a beautiful Southern stage setting. Miss Ann Hines and Miss Louise Thouin supervised the dance; Miss Lena Bertadatto, the costumes.

Now for the concert. The theme: "I hear America singing, the varied carols I hear". The orchestra began by playing "Allegro" from "The New World Symphony". The A Cappella Choir sang "Exhaltation" (Gibb), "Lost in the Night" (Christianson) with Lorraine Frykman as soloist, and "Send Forth Thy Light" (Schuetky). After the Girls' Choral Club had sung "Cradle Song of the Fisherman's Wife" (Dawson), and "Shadow March" (Protherae), the boys' octet sang the favorite "Old Man River" (Kern). The first part ended with "Dark Water" (James), Robert Powers as soloist, "All God's Chillun Got Wings", and "Ezekiel Saw de Wheel" by the A Cappella Choir and the Boys' Glee Club.

The orchestra opened the second part of the programam with "Grand American Fantasia" (Moses-Tobani). The theme for this portion of the concert was Gale Rice's poem,

"Spring has come from the South again,
"And dreams are in her eyes
"And music in her mouth again
"And immortality!"

As the curtain rose, several couples waltzed round and round while the rest visited informally. The girls wore hoops under their long, full skirts, the Scarlet O'Hara type, you know. When the dance ended, the A Cappella Choir swung into "Some Folks" (Foster). Leontina Castagneri then stepped forward to sing "Mah Lindy Lou" (Strickland). When Goldie Mihelich and George Schoonover had blended their voices in "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia" (Bland), Marjorie Hulme, the sophomore nightengale, sang the lilting "Listen to the Mocking Bird" (Hawthorne-Dawson). Following the girls' sextet rendition of Stephen Foster's mornful "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground", the A Cappella Choir sang another of his songs, "O Susanna". Amelia Bozanich warbled the delightful "The Wind's in the South" (Spross). Then George Schoonover sang "Beauttiful Dreamer" with the girls' ensemble, and the A Cappella Choir concluded the second part with "Southern Memories" and "My Old Kentucky Home".

In the third part, the combined chorus with Amelia Bozanich, soloist, first sang "I Hear America Singing". Accompanied by the orchestra, the chorus concluded with "America" (Block). Credit must go to Nancy Ann Stolpe, Marjorie Hulme, and Ruth Hanson for their excellent accompaniments.

Now that you've read the program, you know that we really did "hear America singing" right in our own auditorium.

"MUSIC, MAESTRO, PLEASE"

And here we are, the ones who really pep up our football and basketball games and add that final touch to our auditorium programs. We're always ready to do our part for special occasions.

Do we practice? What good organization doesn't? Four times a week, from four to five-thirty, you can find us at the old grind—but not the same group every night On Monday and Wednesday, the big orchestra plays; on Tuesday, the band; and on Thursday, our small orchestra. No, we don't mind practicing after four o'clock; it's part of the fun of being in the band and orchestra.

We really enjoy playing the classics, too, such as Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony", and Dvorak's "New World Symphony",—or the lighter music—such as "Selections from the New Moon" and "The Three Musketeers".

After this June 4, there will be thirteen musicians who can no longer say, "We Belong". Being graduated this year are Bertha Aho, Amelia Bozanich, Gloria Cox, Catherine Dosen, Joseph Hren, Gladys Kapa, Ward Kellow, Avis Panula, John Polenik, Robert Regis, Glenn Rupp, George Schoonover, Anthony Kosmerl, Gerald Adamic, Jack Krause, and I, Ralph Baldrica. All of us can say, however, that we have profited from the four years spent under the direction of our friendly, capable leader, Mr. Louis S. Regis.

THE NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE WAS BUSY

The members of the National Forensic League went to the speech tourney at Cloquet and came back State Champions. John Cawley, the president, won first place in oratory and William Bradley, the vice-president, was elected president of the Student Congress. Doris Stanich was second in dramatic reading, and Richard Johnson was fourth in oratory. Besides gathering honors, everyone had a good time eating green ice cream and playing the nickleodean tunes of "Coosee Coo" and "Livit I Finskegarna" at the Dairy Inn.

But perhaps you'd like to know more about the league itself. To be a member, a person must be in the upper two-thirds of his class and must have earned twenty forensic points, which will earn him a degree of merit. The league encourages advancement by offering the following degrees for various points: degree of honor, fifty points; degree of excellence, one hundred points; degree of distinction, one hundred fifty points. John Cawley established a new school record by chalking up 357 points, which was 53 points higher than that of the former champ, Bernard Hoberman.

The league members entered many debates and declamatory contests, amassing 1,447 points this year to bring Chisholm's total to 2,208.

OUR PLAYS–"BELLE LAMAR" AND "THE NUT FARM"

Every year we have two plays here at Chisholm High. For the all-school play on December 5, Miss Virginia McNicholas, our director, chose "Belle Lamar", a Civil War drama. Ellamae Anderson and John Cawley had the star roles of Isabelle Lamar and Philip Bligh. It was a story of a Southern belle married to a Northern army officer. The plot involved spies, soldiers, and faithful servants. Leontina Castagneri and Robert Mueller played to perfection the roles of Irish Honor McQuade and black Uncle Dan. Lloyd Johnson as Corporal Renny O'Shea humorously marshalled soldiers Albert Samsa, Alvar Humppi, John Pahule, Robert Powers and James Bryan. William Bradley, William Verant, Donald Kaliin, Richard Johnson, Don Wilson, and Kenneth McDougall were Union officers.

I know you would have enjoyed "The Nut Farm", the senior class play presented on May 22. The story was that of the Barton family of Newark who came to Hollywood, the city of glamor. The daughter became movie-struck; and Willie, the black sheep, turned out to be the hero by directing her drama into a farce. John Cawley as Willie, Alan Humphreys as the author, Mr. Biddeford, and Swen Saari as Farmer Sliscomb portrayed their humorous roles excellently. Other members of the cast were Esther Leino, Leontina Castagneri, Betha Giffei, Lauretta Eddy, William Bradley, Ralph Baldrica, and Wayne Nisula.

OUR QUILL AND SCROLL CHAPTER AND RANGER STAFF

Now I'll introduce you to the publishers of this year's book, the RANGER staff. Although only nineteen in number, they published three literary issues of the RANGER, ten of the BLUE STREAK, our school paper, and a forty-eight page annual.

Betha Giffei was our annual editor this year. Under her guidance, writers, artists, and photographers worked hard to bring our book to a high level. Mavis Alto edited our literary issue of the RANGER. These featured the best essays and poems written by the students in school. The BLUE STREAK rose to a new level this year, with Esther Leino as editor. Homecoming at school was featured with a big seventeen-page BLUE STREAK. Miss Margaret Darling, whom you can see in the picture of the mimeograph room on the opposite page, is adviser of all publications.

Above, you see our Quill and Scroll society consisting of twenty-one members chosen for their literary and scholastic abilities. It is really an honor for "budding journalists" to be admitted to this group. On March 31, a formal initiation was held in the high school gym.

THIS IS WHAT THEY DO

The journalism staff of nineteen faithful members hears all, sees all, and prints all of importance in school news. Down in the RANGER office, wits, pencils, and typewriters are in constant use grinding out assignments.

Perhaps you'd like to know just how a BLUE STREAK or RANGER is made. First of all, the editors post the assignment sheets. After the articles have been written, corrected, and "oked", they are typed. The BLUE STREAK is then stenciled and mimeographed, as you can see in the picture below. The papers are assembled and then delivered as in the picture at the lower right.

The typed material for the magazine or annual is sent to the printers. At the right, the boys in the shop are reviewing fundamentals before starting in on a year of hard work.

Last of all, but most important, a publication must have subscribers. The staff solves that problem by subscription drives. Programs are presented, posters are drawn, notices are written, and the reporters track down all prospects. The staff also gives a Christmas Dance. Above, Lauretta Eddy presents RANGER subscriptions to Sylvia Saari and Dorothy Maki, polka winners.

To the average person, a newspaper means reporters, editors, and deadlines. Those are just a few of the other processes that go on behind the scenes.

NOW ABOUT FOOTBALL

Our potential football team, under a new coach, Mr. Henry Hugener, gained honor and fame for our alma mater this season. I wish you could have seen some of the games.

The first tussle was a thriller! In this game, Dario Rolle, that darting half-pint of dynamite, made a name for himself. He scored the only touchdown after rangy Dan Orlich unleashed a dazzling pass that tied the final score, 6 all. What a game! What a team!

Exhibiting a powerful offensive drive, the Hugenermen submerged Virginia's Bluedevils, by the score of 6 to 0. Take my word for it, that was a battle! Burich led the aerial attack. Sucich deserves credit for much of the blocking; and Danni was hailed by the fans for his running plays.

Meeting their waterloo of the season, the locals went down before the Buhl steam-roller, 12 to 0. What a heart-breaker! Ivanca, Orlich, Perush, and Dragisich were the grid stars.

The following week, the Streaks visiously fought a see-saw battle with Hibbing for the final score of 13-all. This healed our wounded pride to a certain extent.

The next week Coleraine bowed before the powerful Streaks' machinery by the lop-sided count of 24 to 6, bringing such stars as Rolle, Orlich, and Perush into the lime-light.

In the season's closing encounter, our boys racked up another triumph against Eveleth with a score of 12 to 7, bringing the grid season to a dynamic finish, with exceptional work by Danni, Ivanca, Perush, Burich, and Dragisich.

INTRODUCING OUR BASKETBALL SQUAD

Our powerful Bluestreak squad had a glorious season of basketball marred only by three defeats. Under the captainship of rangy Dan Orlich, the Roels-Royce was off of victory and fame by whipping the Big Fork, Grand Rapids, and Duluth Central quints. After humbling the Lester Prairie team by a 35 to 23 score, the Streaks suffered their first defeat at the hands of the Buhl Bulldogs, the score being 27 to 22. The Roelsmen flattened their next four opponents by high scores, but again bowed in defeat to Buhl to the tune of 30 to 44. The next game, with Chisholm's traditional rivals, Hibbing, Coach Roels uncorked a surprise package in the form of John Bevka, the sub who made good and saved the day for us. Can that boy play ball! Our mighty quint handed defeats to the gallant Keewatin and Duluth Cathedral five to wind up the regular season.

In the district tournament, the Streaks brushed aside the Hibbing squad, 42 to 29. In the second night of play, the fighting Bluestreaks fell in defeat before the state champs in the game of the year, by the heart-breaking score of 41 to 43. At left: Mike Kos- and Buhl players jump for the ball during the thrilling district battle-

Under the guidance of Coach Carl Giffei, the aquabeaux have swum to victory in three of their eleven meets. The local team defeated Greenway twice, 50 to 23 on December 6, 40 to 33 on January 24; and Duluth Central once, 40 to 33 on December 13. They lost to Hibbing 48 to 25 on December 12, and 49 to 24 on January 31: to Ely 38 to 33 on December 20, and 50 to 23 on February 7. They also were defeated by Virginia twice, 43 to 25 on January 10, and 38 to 26 on February 14. The Eveleth meets were close, but Chisholm was edged out 39 to 34 on both January 17 and February 21. In the state meet, the mermen failed to score for the first time in approximately twenty years.

The nine leading scorers who have contributed to Chisholm's victories are Robert Krueger, Frank Shepich, Gordon Sarff, Edward Klanchnik, John Pahule, Frederick Sterle, Park Borgeson, Peter Ivanca, and William Chipman. Frank Shepich was this year's captain; Robert Krueger was high-point man. At right: Coach Giffei demonstrates proper stroking with Robert Krueger while John Pahule, Gordon Sarff, Peter Ivanca, and Frank Shepich look on.

THESE ARE OUR AQUABEAUX

Second row: Captain Shepich, Krueger, Pahule, Sarff, Ivanca, Chipman, Kaliin, Borgeson.
First row: Johnson, Erickson, Sterle, Hermes, Kautto, Dodier, Huber, Klanchnik.

AND THESE ARE OUR AQUABELLES

Coached by Miss Louise Thouin, our pride, Barbara Roels, and our joy, Edith Phelps, offset all of this season's reverses by swimming the Chisholm aquabelles into third place at the state meet at Virginia on February 20 and 21. Barbara placed second in the 50-yard and 100-yard backstroke; Edith took second in the 50-yard and 100-yard breaststroke.

Here are the results of our squad's six 1941-'42 meets. They lost to Virginia 68 to 31 on December 6, and 61 to 34 on January 24. Ely nosed them out 48 to 43 on January 10, and 56 to 39 on January 17 ,and 55 to 31 on February 14.

Seven letter-winners will be graduated this June: Captain Barbara Roels, backstroke; Jean MacDonald, crawl; Evelyn Hanson, backstroke; Mary Krause, crawl; Maxine Krhin, crawl; and Corinne Papi and Helen Johnson, trainers.

TRACK

THESE TEAMS WORKED HARD

I mustn't forget the track, gym, and curling teams. Captained by Raymond Erspamer and sparkplugged by Daniel Orlich, Anton Mehle, and Charles MacDonald, Coach Roels' cinderpacers competed in the Range Meet at Hibbing, defeated Buhl 66 to 44, bowed to Hibbing 67½ to 45, and came out third in the district meet.

The halves of our basketball games are different from those of most schools because our gym team performs. Coach Latkovich and the boys go through routines on tumbling mats, spring board parallel bars, and the trapezes.

The curling team under the tutorship of Coach Henry Hugener threw stones and swept a fairly successful season. Captain Frank Arnich, Ralph Boriin, and Richard Rudstrom, the veterans from last year, formed the backbone of the team of fifteen members. And here I am, at the end of my second and last letter. Now you know what keeps us so busy in extra-curricular activities.

Goodbye now,
RALPH

Come Wind

Come Weather

Fair weather friends come a penny a dozen. Yours to command when fortune smiles, they soon vanish when adversity threatens. Business policies that are built on expediency may flourish for a season or so, but their foundations rest on the shifting sands of preferred accounts, favored customers, and extra discounts.

Our policy, by contrast, rests squarely on the foundation of equal treatment in price and service to all people alike. It is based firmly on the principles of high quality merchandise, fair dealing, and friendliness. For forty years, it has weathered every test; alike in time of stress and times of plenty. "Come wind, come weather", it is the constant friend, and the staunch ally of the health of the people of Chisholm whose loyal patronage and good will have made possible the continuing progress of the
